Approved,

JAMES MONROE.

BOSTON, March 28.

The following, received in town yesterday, decidedly puts at rest the rumors which have gone abroad, relative to an attempt to stop the Eastern Mail Stage with the intention of robbery.

Extract of a letter to Aaron Hill, Esq. P. M. Boston, dated

NEWBURYPORT, March 27, 1818.

SIR—The driver of the Mail Stage between Portsmouth and this town, was alarmed last evening with what he supposed to be an attack of one or more robbers, with an intention of stopping his carriage. On enquiry this day, it appears that a man who is somewhat insane, was travelling in the middle of the road; it being very dark and the horses going quick they came upon him suddenly, and to clear himself he caught the reins, notwithstanding which he was thrown down; the wheels passed over his thigh and injured him considerably. The man is well known among us, and there can be no suspicion of any design to stop the stage.

CHAMBERSBURG, March 31.

On Tuesday last, two men were lodged in the jail of this county, on suspicion of their having improperly obtained several Post Notes of the Bank of the United States, which they presented for exchange at the Bank of Chambersburg. Mr. Colhoun, cashier of our Bank, immediately wrote to Mr. Smith, cashier of the Bank of the United States, a description of the notes found on these men, and on Saturday last, an express arrived here in 23 hours and 10 minutes, from the Bank in Philadelphia, informing that the notes found on these men

The alterations are so neatly executed, that on several of the notes they cannot be traced with the naked eye.

THE FISHERIES.

Sailed from Marblehead on Saturday last, 35 sail of Fishing schrs. for the Banks, and as many more will sail the present week.—These together with what have heretofore sailed this month, will make 80 sail, and over six thousand tons, employing from 6 to 700 industrious and hardy seamen.
